Hi,

I'm Fazil Yousafzai, a React and React Native developer with a strong background in converting web applications into smooth, high-performing mobile apps.

With hands-on experience in adapting responsive React components to mobile, I ensure seamless transitions across iOS and Android platforms. I prioritize UI/UX optimization, device compatibility, and clean code architecture throughout the process. I've successfully handled mobile-specific functionality like permissions, native modules, push notifications, and offline support.
